Title: The Insider's Blueprint: Cracking Your Technical & HR Rounds

Speaker: Mr. Sumit Chatterjee

Designation: Executive engineer, Pinnacle InfoTech

Date & Time: 29.08.2026, 10.30 AM onwards

Platform: Virtual through Google Meet

Number of Participants: 25

Objective: The alumni talk aimed to provide final-year students shortlisted for the Pinnacle InfoTech recruitment process with practical guidance on preparing for technical and HR interview rounds, understanding employer expectations, presenting their technical knowledge effectively, and approaching interviews with greater confidence through insights from an alumnus currently working at Pinnacle InfoTech.

Brief Overview: The session was conducted as an interactive alumni-focused career guidance program featuring Mr. Sumit Chatterjee, Executive Engineer, Pinnacle InfoTech, who shared his experience of transitioning from the institution to professional employment. The discussion focused specifically on the Pinnacle InfoTech selection process, including preparation for technical interviews, areas of technical knowledge expected from Civil Engineering candidates, approaches to answering technical questions, communication during interviews, and handling HR rounds. The speaker also discussed common interview challenges and provided practical suggestions on presenting academic knowledge, projects, skills and professional interests effectively.

Outcome: The session enabled the participating students to:

- Understand the technical and HR expectations associated with the Pinnacle InfoTech recruitment process.
- Identify important areas for technical interview preparation relevant to Civil Engineering candidates.
- Learn practical approaches for answering technical and HR questions clearly and confidently.
- Understand how to present academic projects, skills and experiences effectively during interviews.
