About the program:

The program, spanning 15 days, was designed to orient about 450 first-year students to the academic environment, the institute's vision and mission, academic expectations, and the diverse facilities that foster both their intellectual development and personal growth. It aimed to serve as an effective platform to introduce the new students to the academic curriculum, institutional values, support systems, and the social fabric of the institute. Through a carefully structured combination of orientation sessions, interactive activities and competitions, the program enabled students to build confidence, establish meaningful connections with peers and faculty, and gain clarity on their roles and responsibilities within the college community. The insightful and engaging talks on values, professionalism, innovation, leadership, and personal growth deeply inspired the students, motivating them to uphold excellence in both academics and character as they embark on their professional journey.

Objective:

- To familiarize students with the institutional vision, mission, and academic system.
- Encouraging students' participation in MOOCs (Massive Online Open Course) courses, MAR (Mandatory Additional Requirement) and other extra- and co-curricular activities organized by the college.
- To provide detailed information on various scholarships and financial aid opportunities, activities of placement cell, R&D activities and IIC of the institute.
- Upcoming semester examination under autonomous syllabus structure.
- Yoga session to provide on the meditation technique's benefits, such as stress relief to cope with academic pressure and stress by promoting relaxation and mindfulness, improving focus and cognitive functioning to boost academic performance.
- Awareness on cyber crime and digital security.
- To provide a platform for students to showcase their talents, interact with peers, and participate in cultural as well as creative activities that encourage overall development.
- To develop essential life skills, discipline, and teamwork among students.
- To create a positive and inclusive environment for learning and personal growth.

Outcomes:

- Students gained awareness about academic structure and institutional support systems.
- Development of communication, and collaborative skills among participants.
- Encouragement for every participant to continue nurturing their creative abilities.
- The program offered students a refreshing and enriching experience that fostered holistic development through a perfect blend of academic orientation and cultural engagement.
- It promoted holistic development through academic, cultural, and co-curricular engagement.
- The program helped the students to build confidence, establish meaningful connections with peers and faculty, and gain clarity on their roles and responsibilities within the college community.
